I'm so excited to hear you have a new book in the works, I know personally I love to paint little gingerbread people, then of course snowmen.

I look forward to seeing your new book!!!!!!!

I love to paint little ginger bread people and would love to see a few of those in your new book, along with your cute little snowmen and bears. :)

I happen to like 99% of everything you design Holly, so I'll let your imagination percolate up some new designs . Just like you always do!

I think you might just have to let us read the new book. We should be satisfied with that after all. I am really glad if I can see your new design of book.

I absolutely love all your designs. I'm always looking forward to your books but I would REALLY love if you would do a companion dvd to go along with it. I know several artist are doing this now and it is a huge help. Your designs are by far my favorite but no matter how many time I read through the steps I just can't get them anywhere close to yours. I would pay any price for a dvd by you :)

I had quite a few requests for a DVD so I am working on it. I hope to have it done this summer. It will cover all my techniques from dry brushing to adding texture. I will post it on the website when it will be available.

Have a great day! Thanks for writing!
